

MOBILITY ROADMAP: STAVANGER, NORWAY

ANTICIPATING AND MANAGING CONFLICT

1. MY DESTINATION & IDENTITY

Thomas Canisares--Morère (21)

M1 Digital Sciences (HPC & Big Data)

ENSEEIH, Toulouse

2. PERSONALITY PROFILE (PCM & CULTURE)

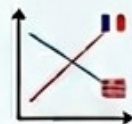

Thinker (Base)

- Logic-driven, organized, and structured.
- Values clarity and precision.
- Direct "no-filter" communication.

FRANCE VS. NORWAY

Communication: High-Context (FR) vs Low-Context (NOR)

Leadership: Hierarchical (FR) vs Egalitarian (NOR)

My direct style aligns well with Norwegian low-context culture. The challenge is adapting to egalitarian consensus.

3. POSSIBLE NORWEGIAN CHALLENGES & RISKS

Cultural Adaptation Risks:

- Consensus decision-making taking too long (vs direct instruction)
- Low-Context communication: missing implied cultural norms

Project Work Risks:

- Varying student commitment levels (different expectations)
- Conflict over technical vs creative priorities

4. MY NEGOTIATION & CONFLICT STRATEGY

1. Early Alignment (Bargaining Mix):

Define clear roles and expectations from Day 1 using Integrative Negotiation.

2. Consensus Building (ZOPA):

Practice Active Listening to find the ZOPA, accepting others' initiatives.

Feedback Tool: DESC Method

Describe situation factually.
Express feelings.
Specify solutions.
Consequences for group success.

FROM LOGIC TO COLLABORATION: EMPOWERING THE TEAM
